

AYBA Environmental Engineering and Consultancy, is in charge since 2003, in the field of environmental management and environmental engineering. Not only environmental regulations but also the strength of efficiency and competition force organizations to integrate environmental management into their business management. From this point of view, we serve in a large extent, such as evaluation and provision of legal conformity, assessment of environmental aspects and impacts, carrying out environmental audits and trainings. Besides those, we proudly take place in quantification, monitoring and reporting of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions via consultancy, training and verification facilities. GHG emission inventories, carbon footprint evaluations and action plans for reduction and removal of GHG's are included in our service content. Moreover we take place in interdisciplinary projects about climate change adaptation action plans in the scope of institutional and regional boundaries. We are ready to give support about relevant trainings that are specially planned for each company and intended for every level of employees.

Every company is private and unique. Our service is also private and unique to every company. Please do not hesitate to contact us, in order to focus on solutions in the field of environmental management.
